

Exotic Metals Forming Company LLC
Environmental Policy Statement

Exotic Metals Forming Company LLC is a leader in state-of-the-art, high-temperature, high-strength sheet metal designs and fabrications for the aerospace industry. We are passionate about being the company our customers go to because they can always depend on us. By implementing our ISO 14001-certified environmental management system (EMS), Exotic Metals Forming Company LLC focuses the same drive on the issue of environmental responsibility by supporting:

- Compliance with relevant environmental legislation, regulations and other customer and community requirements;
- Prevention of pollution;
- Conservation of natural resources;
- Continual improvement of our environmental management system; and
- Setting environmental objectives in support of this policy.

In order to control and improve our environmental performance, Exotic Metals Forming Company LLC identifies its environmental aspects and determines which of those are significant. Based on this determination, environmental objectives and targets are established to address, control and reduce the severity of these aspects.

Continually improving environmental performance is everyone's responsibility. All of our constituents - employees, customers, and suppliers - are integral in fulfilling our on-going commitment to environmental responsibility.
